

The High Life

The allure of living the high-life tempts us all. We dream of being multi-millionaire private jet flying moguls, and the very thought of golfing the most magnificent courses in the world makes us swoon.

Many of today's pro golfers and wealthy leisure golfers have the opportunity to play golf in Italy on Monday, Aruba on Tuesday and will be home for dinner in Scottsdale by 6:00 p.m. on Tuesday. Private Jets are becoming a trendsetting must for the wealthy. Alleviating transfers frees time and avoids large crowds making chartering a private jet a fantastic alternative for golf travel. Remaining discreet enables the discerning pro or celebrity golfer the opportunity to play their round peacefully.

Air Royale International, based in Los Angeles, with offices in New York, London and Hong Kong, is a premier air charter provider services company offering worldwide, round-trip or one-way private jet travel.

Wayne J. Rizzi, president and CEO of Air Royale International Inc., and president and CEO of Private Luxury Group Inc., says both of his companies' offer exceptional value and world-class accommodations for golf lovers world wide whether they are seeking private jet travel or complete golf tour packages.

"With access to a network of more than 5,500 premium aircraft, and hundreds of the world's top operators, which employ the most qualified aircrews and operate the safest aircraft, meeting The Wyvern Standard, Air Royale is a licensed Wyvern Authorized Broker," says Rizzi. "That's important because Wyvern Consulting Ltd. is the 'gold standard' of aviation safety standards. We have access to Wyvern's database, the world's largest database of audited charter operators worldwide, which provides detailed safety criterion matching the most perfectly suited aircraft available to each client."

Challenger Jet
Photo supplied

Cessna Citation XJet
Photo supplied

Hawker Horizon Jet
Photo supplied

