Whether you currently fly private or plan to, the variety of private jet travel solutions available today (fractional ownership, block-charter, membership cards, and so on), might leave you a bit confused about which to choose and why. Since 1994, Air Royale has led the industry in procuring aircraft for private charter with government-certified operators, at guaranteed competitive prices, 24 hours a day. Our “satisfied customers” are some of the most demanding people ...VIPs, celebrities, corporations and movie studios to name just a few. “The Plane Truth” is my attempt to clear the air of misconceptions about private aviation. I hope you find this fourth of six discussions to be enlightening.

FACT: Why get locked into one plane, when you can have a vast array at your disposal?

Monogamy works for people, but not for planes. Being faithful to the one plane you’re wed to as a fractional owner just doesn’t make sense in today’s world. Whether it’s range, seating capacity or cabin configuration, the day will come when that plane won’t be able to do the job...and you’ll have to look outside your fractional marriage to get satisfaction. Air Royale offers a plane in every size, shape and style...so whether it’s divorce from your stifling fractional partnership or an occasional separation from it, Air Royale is the perfect solution for private jet travel. With Air Royale, you’re not bound to a fractional contract. You’re free to choose from our worldwide fleet of 5,500 aircraft with a la carte pricing at some of the industry’s most competitive rates, due to our bulk buying power. Maybe you need to rethink that stifling fractional marriage...or forever hold your peace.

FACT: Not all planes are created equal.

We know your demanding lifestyle requires all types of travel. That’s why Air Royale provides charter solutions for every need, from individual and group travel to luxury long-haul. How do you know which plane is best for what purpose? We’ll help advise you:

For short to mid-range flight, our Turboprops (average nonstop range 1,000 miles) combine the low-cost advantages of piston aircraft with the performance and comfort of jet-powered engines. Light Jets (average non-stop range of 1,500 miles) traveling further and faster than turbos, are the entry-level jet class in the charter industry. However, since both turbos and light jets have limited baggage capacity (the latter often cannot accommodate skis or large golf bags), mid-range Mid-Size Jets (average range of 2,100 miles) blend comfort, performance and economy, as well as reasonable storage options.

Heavy Jets (average range of 4,000 miles) are top-end executive aircraft offering optimum performance and amenities for long-range flights. Luxury amenities include private lavatory and dressing area, ample storage, DVD, phone, fax and full galley with gourmet catering for high-end business and entertainment. The cream of the aviation crop are Air Royale’s Boeing Business Jet Execuliners: The pinnacle of in-air luxury offering three times the interior space of the competition at a comparable price range and a range of more than 6,000 nautical miles. Custom configurations include multiple berths, lavatories, gym, shower, meeting room or study.

FACT: Air Royale is the better partner.

Since, as an air charter intermediary, we don’t own our aircraft, Air Royale will always recommend the safest aircraft that best suits our clients’ individual flight needs—and not the plane that happens to be in the hangar or tied to a contract. A range of flight options, fast quotes, fast response time: That’s the Air Royale difference. Maybe it’s time to kiss your fractional contract goodbye.
